ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1907. PRICE TWO CENTS.

ANOTHER BOOST.

And still our price is the same. Are w lucky? No, we're shrewd, we knew 'tw e coming, so placed our orders to protect your pocket books.

IRON BEDS.

All factories withdrew all prices two weeks ago but the Titus order for 3 big stores had already been placed and accepted at the old prices. Another instance merely of what this big syndicate is doing for you every day in the year, using its best efforts to make you feel through actual savings that Titus is the only place to spend your dollars.

The $5 Special.

Even in this big stock of unequalled values it stands out a wonder among them all—full inch posts with drop foot, heavy brass rail at head and foot, cast bases, a beauty that is not to be found in any other store at less than $7.00.

A. C. TITUS CO., 225-229 Thames Street. Newport, R. I.

To all the Business Men and Citizens of Newport, and all other friends wherever dispersed

A KINDLY HOLIDAY GREETING.

The new year returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man, help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces; let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our business all this year, bring us to our resting beds weary and content and undishonored, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep.

HUGHES READS HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE

New York State Legislature Convenes in Albany.

Organization Quickly Effected in Both Houses.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 2.—The New York state legislature convened for its one hundred and thirtieth session soon after noon today. The day was devoted to organization and the reading of the message of the new governor, Charles E. Hughes.

The senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Chanler and the assembly by Colonel Archie E. Baxter, clerk of the last assembly. Organization was quickly effected and Governor Hughes was notified that the two houses were ready for business. His reply was his first annual message which included the following recommendations:

A recount of the votes cast for mayor in the New York city election in 1905, when, on the face of the returns, W. R Hearst was defeated by George B. McClellan; that the courts be empowered to order a recount summarily in the future, and that the power to bring action to try a title to office to be taken from the attorney general and conferred upon the supreme court. The adoption of a new ballot, whereon the name of a candidate will appear but once.

That the amount of money which a candidate may expend to procure his election be limited.

That the courts be empowered to review the acts of political state conventions and state committees in expelling delegates and members.

That any general committee of a party may adopt rules for direct nominations of candidates at primaries.

That the state board of railroad commissioners and the commission of gas and electricity be abolished, and a new board be constituted with power to enforce its orders through the courts.

That the board of rapid transit commissioners of New York city be abolished, and a new board created to control the transportation and regulate lighting corporations in Greater New York. That children under 16 years of age be not required to work more than eight hours a day and that the work in which they may not engage be specified more precisely.

NOW READY FOR BUSINESS.

Both Branches of the Maine Legislature Organize.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 2.—Both branches of the seventy-third Maine legislature organized today, and are now ready for the business of the biennial session, which it is expected will continue for three months.

The members-elect of the senate were called to order by Secretary Dunbar, and after the calling of the roll a message was sent to Governor William T. Cobb that a quorum of the members was present. Governor Cobb and the members of the executive council then entered the senate chamber, the necessary oaths were administered and the senate was ready for organization, which was perfected by the choice of officers. Fred J. Allen of Sanford was chosen president and Frank G. Farrington of this city secretary. The usual orders were passed, a committee was appointed on the vote for governor, and the regular routine of the opening of the session was transacted.

The house organized at the same hour as the senate. The governor was informed that the members-elect of the house were ready to take the oath of office. Attended by the members of the council and the heads of state departments, Governor Cobb entered the hall, walked down the main aisle and ascended the platform. He read the oath to the members and they repeated it after him. The house then was duly constituted a body and proceeded with its business.

Don A. H. Powers of Houlton was elected Speaker and E. M. Thompson of Augusta clerk.

Thousand Turkish Soldiers Return After Two Years' Fighting.

BUSHIRE, Persia, Jan. 2.—A thousand Turkish soldiers, the remnant of about 4,000 sent to the Nejd peninsula two years ago to suppress the Arab revolt, have returned to Busreh, Asiatic Turkey, in a deplorable condition. Over 2,000 of their comrades died of disease or starvation and the rest deserted.

FOR NEW YEAR GREETINGS.

King Victor of Italy to Receive Diplomatic Corps Collectively.

ROME, Jan. 2.—Although King Victor Emmanuel will not receive the diplomatic corps collectively until this evening, when they will present their New Year's greetings, His Majesty gave a special audience at noon to the American ambassador, Mr. White, who returned here last night from his visit to the United States. The king wished to congratulate Mr. White on his promotion to the Paris embassy, but His Majesty deeply regrets the fact that he will no longr have the pleasure which he derived from the American diplomat's presence here. The audience was all the more complimentary to the ambassador because the king is suffering from a bad cold and a slight fever.

RAISULI NOT CAPTURED.

One of His Calds Made Prisoner by Moroccan Forces.

TANGIER, Morocco, Jan. 2.—There is no truth in the report that Raisuli has been captured. As cabled yesterday, it was one of his calds who was made a prisoner on the charge of sending inflammatory appeals to various tribes inciting them to holy war. This arrest led to the rumor that the bandit chief himself was in the hands of the government forces.

DISCUSSION OVER THE APPOINTMENTS

Senate Keeps Them in Its Own Hands After Debate.

House Disagrees on Seating and Tables Veto Measure.

(Special despatch to the News.)

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 2.—In the senate today the main discussion was on the adoption of rules, and was led by Senators Stiness of Warwick and Sanborn of Newport for the Republicans and Senators Gardner of Providence and Jenckes of Pawtucket for the Democrats. The debate was on the question of appointing committees, and the Republican senators declared that, following custom, the selection of committees should be left to the senate itself. The majority was united on this with the exception of Senators Arnold of Westerly and Palmer of Cranston.

The Democrats contended that it was rank discourtesy to the presiding officer to take from Governor Higgins the privilege accorded every other governor except Governor Garvin. This was corrected by Senator Stiness, who said that Governor Davis also had not been allowed that power, and explained that where the power had been given the presiding officers had always been of the same political party as the controlling power in the senate, and therefore as an element of responsibility the proper safeguard was had. In the case of Democratic presiding officers the majority would be surrendering its control of committees and the policy of the party.

Senator Sanborn of Newport took a prominent part in the discussion, citing the fact that the Democrats could present no precedent for their contention. He claimed that in the United States Senate and every other legislative body where the presiding officer is not elected by that body committees are made up by the members themselves.

After the Democrats had been defeated in their efforts to check the senate's appointments of its own committees, by a vote of 26 to 11, Senator Gardner made other ineffectual efforts to amend the rule.

In the house delay was caused by the refusal of the Democrats to agree on the usual division of the house for seating purposes. There was a conference of the leaders of both parties, but no understanding was reached except that the Democrats agree to act on the matter at a caucus tomorrow.

Representative Green of Providence attempted to take advantage of the absence of rules which would prescribe reference to committees of all matters introduced, by rising almost immediately after the meeting of the house and offering a resolution providing the veto power for the governor. This gave rise to a lively discussion, in which Messrs. Allen and Harris (Republicans) led. The resolution was laid on the table.

The Democrats then started filibustering, trying to make a special order for next Tuesday the customary resolution providing for the assembling of the house each day at 11 o'clock. The effort was also futile, and the hour was finally fixed for 11 o'clock.

A resolution providing for a meeting of the two houses in grand committee tomorrow, introduced by Mr. Allen, was passed. This provides for a session of the grand committee at which clerks of the supreme and superior courts, three members of the state board of education and other officers will be elected.

Representative Waterman of Providence introduced a resolution repealing the section of the Public Statutes allowing the confirmation by the senate of all appointments by the governor. This was also tabled.

The vote on all these questions in the house was strictly on party lines, 39 to 33, the so-called independents, including Mr. Peckham of Middletown, voting with the Republicans.

LATEST NAVAL NEWS.

Orders of Officers and Movements of Vessels Reported Today.

(Special despatch to the News.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The following orders to officers were announced by the Navy Department today:

Ensign K. R. Crittenden, detached from the medical school hospital at Washington and ordered to the Milwaukee.

Mate A. E. Moore, detached from the navy yard, League Island, and ordered to the Fish Hawk.

MORE THAN 70 MEN EXILED.

Lockout of Factory Employes in Lodz Still Continues.

LODZ, Jan. 2.—The lockout of factory employes here continues, but save isolated conflicts of a factional character quiet has generally been maintained. The authorities have exiled 74 unemployed persons who took prominent parts in recent disturbances. Fourteen workmen were killed or wounded in fights between Socialists and Nationalists yesterday and two government spirit stores were looted by terrorists.

The directors of the Scheibler cotton mills have offered a reward of $2,000 for the capture of the men who murdered their engineers.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL CRISIS IMMINENT.

Country Has Embarked on a Financial Reformation.

Stuyvesant Fish Gives Reasons for Dear Money.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Stuyvesant Fish, in a statement written for the Journal of Commerce, declares a great industrial crisis is due, and there are many indications of its being imminent.

"Despite the unprecedented output of gold," Mr. Fish writes, "money is dear the world over, and dear because of high prices and activity in trade."

Other causes for dear money are found in the fact that Great Britain has not fully made up its losses in the Boer war, that Japan and Russia, particularly the latter, have scarcely begun to recover from the effects of their war, and that, within the past year, there have been tremendous losses of capital due to the calamities in San Francisco and Valparaiso.

Turning to our country, Mr. Fish writes that New York, especially that part of it known as "Wall Street," has absorbed and is absorbing more than its share of the loanable fund. On the stock exchange Mr. Fish says:

"The New York Stock Exchange has ceased to be a free market, where buyers and sellers fix prices through the ebb and flow of demand and supply, and has become the plaything of a few managers of cliques and pools to such an extent that for months past every announcement of increased dividends, of stock distributions and of rights has been met by a fall in prices. "The investing public are and re-

RULES AND ORDERS...

Prepared by a Sub-Committee and Expecte' to be Adopted by Representative Council,

The proposed rules and orders for the government of the new Representative Council, which the sub-committee appointed by the several ward delegations has prepared for presentation at the opening meeting of Council, have been printed in pamphlet form and sent by the city clerk to the various members-elect. The rules cannot be adopted until the members are sworn and the council organized, but their adoption will be one of the first acts of the new body. It is probable that, as prepared by the committee, they will be adopted as a whole by the Council, without material amendment. The rules are as follows:

1. At the first meeting it shall be the duty of the city clerk to call the Representative Council to order and call for credentials of members of said council and obligate them.

2. The city clerk shall call for nominations for chairman of the council, who shall be elected by ballot.

3. All officers shall be elected by ballot. The one receiving the majority of votes present shall by the chairman be declared elected.

Duties of the Chairman.

4. The chairman of the Representative Council shall take the chair at the appointed hour and call the council to order.

5. Immediately after the chairman calls the council to order, the clerk of the council shall call the roll of members, and, if a quorum be present, proceed to business.

6. He shall preserve order and decorum. He may speak as other members on general questions, when he shall call some other member to the chair. He shall decide all questions of order subject to appeal to the council. On every appeal he shall have the right in his place to assign his reasons for his decision.

7. He shall propound all questions in the order in which they are moved, unless the subsequent motion be previous in its nature, except that in naming sums and fixing times the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first. He shall rise to put a question, but may state it or read a paper sitting. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Gentlemen in the affirmative will say Aye,"and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "Gentlemen in the negative will say No." If the chairman doubts, or a division be called for, the council shall divide. He shall declare all votes.

8. He shall appoint a doorkeeper and messenger.

9. He shall vote on all questions. In case of a tie vote the question shall be lost.

10. It shall be the duty of the clerk to keep a true account of the proceedings of the council meetings.

On Debate.

11. When any member is about to speak in debate, or to deliver any matter to the council, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Chairman," and shall not proceed until he has been recognized.

12. When two or more members rise at the same time, the chairman shall name the member who is to speak first.

13. No member shall speak more than twice to the same question without the leave of the council, nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

14. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgress any rule of the council, the chairman shall, or any member may, call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted by the chairman to explain; and the council shall, if appealed to, decide on the case, but without debate.

15. While the chairman is putting any question, or addressing the council, or when a member is speaking none shall entertain private discourse nor walk between the member who is addressing the chairman and the chair.

16. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the chairman, or, being in writing, shall be handed to the chairman and read before debate. Any motion shall be reduced to writing before debate whenever the chairman or any member shall so request.

17. A question that is susceptible of division shall, at the request of any member, be divided and put separately upon the propositions of which it is compounded, but a motion to strike out and substitute shall not be divided.

18. Any resolution of more than one section shall be passed upon by sections, at the request of any member.

19. No motion or proposition of the subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

20. When a question is under debate no motion shall be received, except to adjourn, for the previous question, to lay on the table, to fix a time for closing debate, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, or to amend, which several questions shall have precedence in the order in which they are here arranged.

21. Every member present shall give his vote unless excused by the council for special reasons. The chairman while occupying the chair shall be entitled to vote upon all questions but shall not make or second any motions.

22. The roll of the council shall be called alphabetically upon any question upon request of one fifth of the members present.

23. After a roll call has been ordered there shall be no debate whatever, but by unanimous consent a member may explain his vote.

24. The rules of parliamentary practice shall govern the council in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with these rules.

25. That all committees appointed from the Representative Council shall have equal representation from each ward.

26. Any member offering a resolution shall have 10 minutes to debate resolution. All other members limited to five minutes' debate resolution.

GANS KNOCKS OUT HERMAN.

Still Retains the World's Light-Weight Championship.

TONOPAH, Nev., Jan. 1.—Joseph Gans of Baltimore, the wonderful colored boxer, is still the light-weight champion of the world. In a rattling fight before the Casino Athletic Club here today Gans knocked Kid Herman of Chicago out in the eighth round.

The result was never in doubt from the moment the men first put up their hands, for it was generally conceded that Gans outclassed his rugged but inexperienced opponent in every detail known to the prize ring. Gans was never in better shape. Although he scaled under the light-weight limit of 133 pounds, he was as strong as a bull and even faster than in his recent 42-round mill with Battling Nelson.

The men agreed to fight to a finish —a contest that is legal in this state—and the mill took place in a covered amphitheatre which was especially constructed for such purposes. As Herman had never done anything wonderful in the way of beating first-class pugilists it looked like a one-sided affair when the match was made. Gans, with his great record as a knocker-out, was therefore regarded as a sure winner, and from the very outset he demonstrated that Herman had no business in the ring with him.

Herman devoted his time in the early part of the fight to punching Gans in the body, but his blows did not have power to do the intended damage. As the battle progressed Gans gradually sized the Chicago boy up, and when he finally cut loose with his famous attack Herman looked like a novice.

Gans drew blood from Herman's nose in the first round and scored a harmless knockdown in the third. It was in the sixth that Gans began to fight with all of his skill and strength, with the result that Herman was almost knocked through the ropes. After that, in spite of Herman's pluck and willingness to mix it, he was forced to take a terrible beating. He was cut over the eye with an uppercut in the seventh round and was put to sleep in the eighth round with a heavy right on the point of the jaw after he had been severely jarred with a left on the neck.

Herman was knockd out as clean as a whistle. There was no accident about it, for it was the result of calm deliberation on the part of Gans, who had been looking for this sort of an opening all through the contest. In science, generalship, hitting and footwork Gans was easily the master. He put up a better fight, it seemed, than in the battle with Nelson and proved beyond peradventure that he is still the greatest fighter of his weight and inches in the ring today.

IGNORANT OF THE LAW.

District Attorney Asks Guild to Remove Boston Police Commissioner.

BOSTON, Jan. 1.—An incident today in the long controversy between District Attorney Moran and Police Commissioner O'Meara over the enforcement of the laws, especially those relating to the observance of Sunday, was a letter which Mr. Moran sent to Governor Guild, suggesting that O'Meara's resignation be requested.

In his letter Mr. Moran declares that the police commissioner is ignorant of the law and that ignorance has been emphasized by his orders to the police and the subsequent annoyance of many persons innocent of violations of the Sunday observance laws.

The municipal court today approved 26 more applicants for summonses for alleged violations of the Sunday laws, bringing the total up to 130 and involving nearly 200 defendants. The majority of the summonses granted today were against bakers, but the number also included members of one of the hotel orchestras, the court selecting one orchestra out of a number whose names were taken in order to have a test case.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said: "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

Don't worry over imagined "female troubles." Cure the kidneys and you will be well. Read how to find the cure.

Marion Knight, of 33 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., member of the Chicago Federation of Musicians and a well-known club woman, says: "This winter when I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills I ached in every bone and had intense pains in the kidneys and pelvic organs. The urine was thick and cloudy, and I could barely eat enough to live. I felt a change for the better within a week. The second week I began eating heartily. I began to improve generally, and before seven weeks had passed I was well. I had spent hundreds of dollars for medicine that did not help me, but $6 worth of Doan's Kidney Pills restored me to perfect health."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Miss Knight will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

CLOSING ITS BUSINESS.

Council Leaves to Its Successor Beach and Telephone Matters.

Passes Trolley Freight Ordinance and Increases Pay of Permanent Firemen.

The City Council of 1906 held its last business meeting Tuesday evening. It was not only the last meeting of this Council but the last under the old charter, and a considerable number of matters of importance, including the lease of Easton's beach and the agreement with the telephone company regarding the use of telephones by city officials, were referred to the new city government.

Ordinances were passed authorizing the Newport & Fall River Street Railway Company to carry freight over its lines, increasing the pay of the permanent men of the fire department, and giving retired policemen half pay on the basis of the increased pay of policemen and not on the basis of the pay at the time of their retirement.

A resolution was passed distributing the unexpended balance of the appropriation for state tax to several departments which were short and refunded the several amounts transferred to them to enable them to meet their payments for the year.

A resolution was also passed paying the members of the Board of Aldermen $1 an hour for counting the votes cast at the municipal election.

All the members of both boards were present and at the conclusion of the business the customary votes of thanks were given to the presiding officers and the clerks for their work during the year.

Finance report No. 13 was read and the following amounts were ordered paid from the several appropriations named:

City Asylum,	$758.85
Books, Stationery and Printing,	61.23
Fire Department,	1,375.69
Board of Health,	11,842.22

Headstones,	277.20
A. Touro Fund,	449.07
Judah Touro Fund,	20.00
Dog Fund,	82.00
	$27,175.02

The report of the clerk of the finance committee was read. It showed the balances to the credit of the several appropriations at the close of business Saturday, December 29, less the sums ordered paid by finance report No. 12, and is as follows:

Department or Account.	Credits.	Charges.	Balances
Police Dept.,	$45,786.27	$44,413.62	$1,125.65

On recommendation of the committee on finance, a resolution was passed directing the city solicitor to apply to the General Assembly for an amendment to chapter 1278 of the Public Statutes, authorizing the city of Newport to hire money in anticipation of the receipt of taxes, by directing that the money be hired under the direction of the Board of Aldermen instead of under the direction of the joint committee on finance.

A resolution was passed, also upon the recommendation of the finance committee, amending the resolution passed at a previous meeting of the City Council, authorizing the city treasurer to hire $60,000 to meet the bills of the city, so that a portion of the money may be hired in the month of January as well as in the month of December. The original resolution allowed the hiring of money in December and only half the amount was hired then.

Another resolution recommended by the finance committee authorized the transfer of the unexpended balance of the appropriation for state tax to several appropriations, as follows: For coupons, $800; fire department, $744.27; police department, $2,038.27; health department, $921.21; salaries, $165.02; land and other damages, $3,540.60; ward meetings, $2,105.63.

The finance committee reported that it had purchased bonds of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company to the amount of $10,000 for the sinking fund, and recommended that the balance be transferred from the surplus sinking fund account to the several sinking fund accounts, to make up the amount required for the year. A resolution directing the city treasurer to make this transfer was passed.

A resolution was passed directing the payment to Kirwin Brothers of the sum of $400, in relation to the injury to Alice Geraghty, upon their signing a release to the city of all claim for damages.

On recommendation of the committee on Touro trust funds, the city treasurer was authorized to draw from the state treasurer the income of the Touro Synagogue fund, not exceeding $2,400, to meet the bills against this fund.

The committee on city property reported on the lease of Easton's beach, stating that it had not had opportunity to give the matter the consideration it requires, and recommending that the matter be referred to the next city government. It was so voted.

On recommendation of the ordinance committee, an ordinance was passed giving the Newport & Fall River Street Railway Company authority to carry freight on its lines in the city; also, on recommendation of the committee, the police ordinance was amended so that all retired police officers shall receive half pay on the basis of the increased pay of the policemen and not on the basis of the pay when they were retired.

A resolution was passed directing

PORTUGAL'S KING IN TROUBLE.

Denounced As the Chief of a Robber Gang, and "A Common Criminal" in the National Legislature.

[Marquise de Fontenoy.]

When matters reach such a pass in a monarchy that the sovereign is denounced as "the chief of a robber gang," as "guilty of the embezzlement of public funds" and as "a common criminal" in the national legislature, it is no exaggeration to assert that the throne is in danger. These were the epithets hurled the other day at King Carlos of Portugal during an extremely stormy session of parliament, in the course of which it was asserted that for far less than what King Charles had rendered himself guilty of "the head of Louis XVI fell on the guillotine." The leader of the Republican party called upon the premier, as an honorable man, to insist that the king should mortgage his private property to pay his debts to the national treasury, and then to say to the monarch, "Go away from Portugal if you do not want the nation to put you in prison like a common criminal." The Republican leader wound up by proclaiming the republic in the Chamber, which was thereupon somewhat late in the day, cleared by the troops.

King Carlos, like his mother, the Queen Dowager, is exceedingly extravagant, and, although his wife is rich and closefisted, like all the members of the French House of Orleans, to which she belongs, yet he himself has little or no private fortune. The consequence is that he is nearly always in debt, and recently the fact was brought to light that he had been drawing upon the national treasury for very large sums in excess of his civil list. These payments were made to him without the authority of the legislature. Of course, the proper way for parliament to have dealt with this matter would have been to impeach the minister of finance for allowing the treasury to honor the king's drafts without legislative sanction. But, in the first place, the opposition seems to have become imbued with the idea that the royal drafts were made without the consent, and even without the knowledge, of the minister, although this is difficult to believe. Then, too, the relations between the court and the cabinet have been greatly strained for some two months past, and it is by no means unlikely that the administration has been glad of the opportunity to get even with the king by allowing the impression to become current that he had obtained money from the national exchequer without its knowledge.

With all that, King Charles is far from being objectionable as a king. He is a warm hearted, generous, liberal minded, highly accomplished sovereign, passionately devoted to all manly sports, good tempered, a bon vivant, whose home life, in spite of his difference with his handsome French consort on the subject of religious matters, has been singularly free from scandal. He is the victim of circumstances, rather than of his own shortcomings.

NO SUNLIGHT FOR HIM.

Writing to a friend in the country a New York merchant says: "I live in the electric light. I leave my home at 7 o'clock, after dressing and taking my breakfast by electric light. Then I go to the subway, one block distant, and ride to within a block of my office. There I work all day by electric light and go home again by the subway and spend the evening in the glare of the incandescent lamp. The weather conditions make no difference, because my flat and my office belong to the semi-dark kind. Sometimes I wonder what I would do without electric light, and sometimes I ask myself, when I yearn for a little sunlight: Is the new light really a blessing?"

"FOR THE NIGHT COMETH."

[Harper's Weekly.]

Across the dial-plate, where sleeps
A lizard, drunken with the light,
An ever-shifting shadow creeps—
The outstretched finger of the night.
Uncropped, unclipped, around the base
The high grass springs, the mullein towers,
Hiding the legend on the face:
"I Cannot Count in Shade or Showers."

A friend of sunny times alone,
It hath no love for darker days;
When clouds across the sun are blown
It hungers for the warming rays.
It basks gray-silent in the light,
Content beneath the sun's full powers;
Above, the legend reads aright:
"I Number But the Sunny Hours."

But carved beneath, another line
Cries its short message to mankind,
Half hid beneath the rank woodbine
To eyes that see and yet are blind.
Out of the wilderness, unheard,
It calls through winter-time and June,
Shouting to all to wake and gird:
"Man, Seize the Hour While Yet 'Tis Noon."

Like bugles in the dead of night
The high call startles, and the heart
Leaps, as a lark to meet the light,
Eager to do its promised part.
Man, seize the hour, thy work to bless;
Mould thou and shape the instant boon;
Hear ye across the wilderness:
"Use Well the Time; the Night Comes Soon."

FANCIES.

'Tis true that year of nineteen 'six
Had served us many scurvy tricks;
And yet to hope the fancy clings,
We'll see what nineteen 'seven brings,
And if this year should prove as bad
In some ways as the one we've had
We won't despair nor rail at fate,
But simply wait for nineteen 'eight.
—[Washington Star.

"It might have been a good thing."

"Not for me. It would have kept me worried for years. It's going to take me three weeks merely to learn to write '1907' instead of '1906.'"—[Washington Star.

THE WORK OF AN AGED MAN.

Whenever anything happens to a man 60 years old the newspaper reporters describe him as an "aged man." If the reporter neglects his opportunity the head-line artist does not, for "aged" is one of those short words of which the head-liner is in great need in these days of bold type for "scare heads." With the reporters agrees Dr. Osler, who put the productive and creative limit of a man's life at 40 and fixed 60 as about the end of his usefulness, even in the way of doing over and over the things he had learned to do while young, and which had not become obsolete. So also agree with them the naval authorities, who complain that officers do not reach the grade of admiral till they are 60 and are near the point of retirement, and who seek to accelerate promotion so that comparatively young men may reach "command rank."

Now all these people may learn something from the career of Mr. Cassatt. He was 60, an "aged" man, when urged to take the presidency of the greatest railroad in the country. He was not in the line of promotion. He was not in the service of the railroad company. He had done his railroad work and retired to his stock farm and his fast horses, and accepted the office of township road surveyor without salary in order to devote his energies to the improvement of the highways.

Taking the presidency at 60, he struck out the boldest course ever projected by a railroad president. The capital which the Pennsylvania has raised in the last seven years can only be matched by the revenues of a small nation. He bought the Long Island road to make himself independent of the New Haven in seeking New England trade. He acquired large interests in the Reading, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western, and secured practically complete control of the "trunk line" territory. He committed the company to the enormous cost of the tunnel under the Hudson river, the New York terminal and the connection with the Long Island. And then, when public sentiment turned against the combinations, he anticipated legislation in abolishing passes and rebates, which are taxes on the railroads; offered no opposition to the rate regulation bill, but rather welcomed it, and made its enactment the pretext on which he disposed of much of the railroad's holdings in competing lines. No youngster could have had greater boldness or more ivibility.

LE STANDARDS OF MORALITY.

Father Mathe,

he speakers at the educa- ng in Providence last somewhat unusual de- ble code of honesty the private and cor- e country, ascribing rable dealing so often er to the avaricious- ders quite as much of managers. There od deal of truth in nditions which have unpleasantly of late, I can hardly be con- t excuse or even an stance in connec- onesty of a corpora- may satisfy his con- vill not justify his the eyes of upright estion that the de- olders of corporations are peremptory and days of quick for- cumulations of mil- lions, and that it takes backbone and strict honesty on the part of managers to withstand the pressure brought to bear upon them to increase returns from investments without regard to the method employed to accomplish that result. The motto impressed upon managers by many corporations is: "Get results. No matter how you get them, but get them and make them as big as you can."

It is this spirit which forces many managers of corporations to grind down their employes to the limit of both time and wages, so that a maximum of result may be secured from a minimum of expense; it is this spirit which cuts down the profit of the middlemen and puts the pile into the pockets of the stockholders, already rich beyond the possibility of income spending; it is this spirit which founds trusts and drives out the small dealers or manufacturers, making large sales count up in millions, to be divided when the melon is sliced; it is this spirit which is making the breach between capital and labor wide and difficult to close; it is this spirit which is fostering socialism and setting the poor against the rich simply because they are rich.

But all this does not justify the managers of such corporations in the adoption of wrong methods and measures to secure the results demanded. It is not necessary to yield to this temptation any more than to any other. To be asked to do wrong or to be expected to do so does not make it necessary that wrong shall be done. The greed of stockholders does not excuse managers for catering to that spirit at the expense of others. The explanation of the professor is no doubt correct, in a measure at least, but it does not assist at all in increasing the standard of honesty in the business world. It only shows that both parties to dishonest practices are equally guilty.

There will be little hope of the raising of the standard of honesty until the same code is adopted and followed in both private and commercial life. It is an anomaly that there should be two standards for what is really the same thing, and it is curious but at the same time startling to learn to what an extent this double code of morality exists among men of much pretension and some claim to honorable living and dealing. It will not do to try to lay the blame upon either the managers or the stockholders, for they are both tarred with the same stick if they are dealing dishonestly for the sake of increasing dividends and piling up fortunes. Both must revise their code of morals and reform before they will be blameless.

OFFICERS ON PROMOTION BY SELECTION.

It is not surprising to learn from the report of Brigadier General William H. Carter that there is a marked feeling of unrest among officers over the plan of promotion proposed by the President. It is noteworthy, however, that this discontent finds expression in the report of an officer who is himself the beneficiary of one of the President's arbitrary and unexpected selections. General Carter had been for many years at a desk in the adjutant general's office and was not regarded as in line for promotion, except to be adjutant general or military secretary, as he has come to be known as the result of some of the most curious movements—not to use so unpleasant a word as intrigues—ever known in the army.

The President has asked for absolute power to dismiss army and navy officers. While he has referred to promotion by selection by a board of officers, some of his language implies a wish to have promotion by his own unlimited selection, and the officers do not relish having their commissions and all their future prospects at the mercy of the President, or even of a board of officers. The selections made by Mr. Roosevelt are not calculated to win the confidence of the officers as a body, and they would rather have promotion slow and not in recognition of their services than run the risk of having injustice done in the interest of a Presidential favorite or a man whose services have been rendered at the War Department under the eye of the President, instead of on the frontier or in a remote garrison, where the President would be unlikely to hear much about him.

General Carter says the officers as a whole "are unwilling to trust their careers to boards of officers who of necessity must base their conclusions upon personal acquaintance, or efficiency reports, which latter are not regarded as accurate indexes of either character or qualifications." But such boards would be vastly better qualified to select the right officers than the President would be. Our officers wish to be treated with justice, and they do not need the stimulus of promotion to do their best under all circumstances.

The pure food law is supposed to be in full force and everything is presumed to be labelled. But it is said that there are scores of ways in which the law can be evaded, and that a dealer who wishes to sell adulterated articles can do so without danger of punishment.

It is now said in Washington that the solution of the Cuban question lies not so much in the annexation of the island as in the establishment of a protectorate similar to that of England over Egypt, which should maintain order and under which the Cubans should have self-government.

Of the City Council of 1906, the five members of the Board of Aldermen and eight of the 15 members of the Common Council will close their connection with city affairs with the incoming of the new government next Monday.

George H. Utter retires from the executive chair with the utmost respect of the citizens of Rhode Island. He made one of the best governors the state has had in many years. Governor Higgins can scarcely do better than follow the example set by his predecessor.

Governor Higgins retires in New York and Governor Higgins takes office in Rhode Island. The Higgins family is evidently all right.

Governor Hughes of New York says his aim is not more but better laws. That would be an excellent aim for other states, as well as New York.

The City Council, true to its custom, made extra appropriations at its last meeting.

JANUARY MAGAZINES.

If the January number of the Atlantic Monthly is any indication of what may be expected from "the grand old magazine" during its coming jubilee year, there is a feast in store for its readers. The issue opens with a genial and witty discourse from the editorial pen, on "Turning the Old Leaves." While the Atlantic has a past to be proud of, one of its distinctions is the directness with which it faces the issues of the present day. Nothing, for example, could be more timely than an article by James A. LeRoy upon "Japan and the Philippine Islands," in which, after a resume of past "yellow peril" scares, the author makes some bold prophecies about our future relations with Eastern races. Opportune, also, is an article by Hon. Francis C. Lowell, on "Mutual Life Insurance," in which he analyzes the fundamental defects of the present system and proposes a rational scheme of reconstruction. A paper by E. A. Ross, entitled "The Criminaloid," is equally certain to attract wide attention. "The Country Editor," by C. M. Harger, a Kansas journalist, is a spirited defense of the profession that has afforded so much entertainment for the humor columns of the city paper.

On the literary side the Atlantic keeps its preeminence. May Sinclair's new novel, "The Helpmate," whose first instalment appears in this issue, takes rank at once among the important novels of the year: Edith Wharton continues her account of "A Motor Flight Through France," and there are stories by S. Carleton, Elizabeth R. Pennell and Mary Heaton Vorse, Mary Moss reviews the New Novels; W. A. Gill writes on "The Nude in Autobiography," and A. S. Pier on "Brawn and Character." R. W. Gilder, Charlotte Wilson and T. Sturge Moore contribute poems.

Keen satire, musical verse and strong stories make the January number of the Bohemian a worthy first issue of the New Year. It has seven short stories, among them "The Quest of MacGowan," by Catherine Carr, and "The Bounder," by Lawrence Perry. Other stories are "The Big Tin Box," by Arthur Applin; "When Stella Lived in Bohemia," by W Carey Wonderly; a laughable skit telling of "Thompson's Reformation," by Ollm L. Lyman; "How Things Went at the High School," by W. A. Frost, and "The Magnet," by Adele Marie and Albert Shaw. The department "Here and There," which sparkles with story and anecdote, is as interesting as ever, and is made additionally attractive by full-page portraits of Miss Jessie Millward, Mme. Alla Nazimova, the distinguished Russian actress; Henry Blossom, the dramatist, Mary Mannering, Gertrude Elliott, Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd and others prominent in the literary and dramatic world.

Another instalment of "My Yesterdays" is written by Otis Skinner. Other personal history articles are those of Israel Zangwill, by George C. Tyler, the well-known theatrical manager, and about Oliver Herford, by Zoe Anderson Norris, entitled "The Omar of The Persian Kitten." A few pointers on "Culinary Geography" is an appetizing sketch by Miles Bradford, whose "The Welsh Rabbit Family" in the Bohemian has made thousands hungry. This article has several attractive recipes. The satire and humor is cared for in the Bohemiana department by another instalment of Edward Marshall's "Unnatural History" stories, by a characteristic bit from La Touche Hancock and by a funnily garrulous wedding monologue by Harvey Beake.

A WASHWOMEN'S UNION.

The latest addition to the labor union family is reported from New Brunswick, N. J. It is a washwomen's union. It has not a charter at present or any special officials, but the members have a mutual understanding. The rule is to start work at 8:30 a. m. and quit at 5 p. m., sharp, no overtime work and wages $1.25 a day. Everything must be ready for the woman when she comes to the house. The clothes must be put to soak Sunday night after the family comes home from the evening service, so as to lighten the work for Monday morning.

CLEAN MILK OBJECT LESSON.

[Winnipeg Telegram.]

Last February the dairy department at the Manitoba Agricultural College undertook to dispose of milk to city consumers. In less than three months the demand was greater than the supply. Milk from the college is sold in winter at 10 quarts for $1 and in summer at 12 quarts for $1. Other milkmen in Winnipeg have prices ranging from 12 to 14 quarts for $1 in winter and 16 to 20 quarts for $1 in summer. Why do the consumers pay the higher prices? Simply because they know they are getting a product of high quality. The product as it comes from the producers is run through a separator to clarify it: it is pasteurized, the milk and the cream from the separator are mixed in such proportions as to give the consumer 4 per cent cream, and all vessels and utensils are sterilized in steam.

ABOARD RHODE ISLAND.

Transfer of the Gregory Mills Property at Wickford.

Fiftieth Anniversary of a Providence Church—Injured by Fall of a Rock.

The transfer of the Gregory mills at Wickford from Albert Gregory, son of the late Governor Gregory, took place yesterday. The property, which is valued at $25,000, is now in the control of prominent Rhode Island mill men. It is their intention to make a number of important changes in the plant and to begin the manufacture of the finest grades of worsted yarns in the early spring. The chief reason for the disposal of the property by Albert Gregory is that he has identified himself with the manufacture of cotton yarns in New York, a business which is growing to such an extent that he has felt compelled to give up his Wickford interests. For a number of years the property at Wickford was operated by the late Governor William Gregory. Following his death in 1901 the property passed into the hands of his son, Albert Gregory. Two years ago the son was stricken with typhoid fever and the plant was then leased to Joseph E. Fletcher. The business conducted by him in the Gregory mills expanded so that he was compelled to seek more commodious quarters. He accordingly gave up the Wickford plant in the middle of September and in his new establishment largely increased the output by the introduction of new looms and other machinery. The lease of the Wickford plant to Mr. Fletcher expired Monday. For several weeks manufacturers have been looking over the plant at Wickford with a view to purchasing. Yesterday Rhode Island mill men who have been interested in the facilities offered by the Gregory plant went to Providence, where they had a conference with Albert Gregory at the Narragansett Hotel. The result was that the plant passed into new hands.

The fiftieth anniversary of the North Congregational Church on Walling street, Providence, was celebrated last evening by a reception and a banquet spread for 200 persons. It was the annual meeting of the church and a happy gathering of the members and their families enjoyed the occasion. An informal reception was held and in the vestry, which was tastefully decorated, supper was served. Annual reports were read by the secretary and treasurer, the latter showing that all debts of the church have been paid and a satisfactory balance is on hand. Officers for the ensuing year were elected. The pastor reported that his efforts to clear the church from debt had been successful beyond his expectations. He extended sincere thanks to friends within and without the church for the generosity which had made the result possible. He then produced a cancelled note for $1,000 which had stood for some time against the church, and, applying a match, watched the paper burn. The company expressed its feeling by fervidly singing "Praise God, from Whom All Blessings Flow." Congratulatory speeches followed by W. O. Talcott, C. H. Eastwood, M. L. Cary, Walter Lloyd and others. Pledges for the running expenses of the church for the new year were made.

Joseph Tremando was badly hurt and Michael Cory and Jacob Hargrove were slightly injured by the fall of a large rock from the roof of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad's tunnel under College Hill near Benefit Street end in Providence while at work at an early hour this morning. Tremando was hurried to the Rhode Island Hospital suffering from a dislocation of the hip bone and possible internal injuries. The other workmen were treated in the construction office and later returned to their places. The accident happened shortly after midnight, while the men who belong to the drilling gang were working about 400 feet from the mouth of the tunnel, placing one of the roof supports in place. Without warning a large rock fell from the roof. Tremando, who is a drill runner, was bending over at the time, fixing the base of the support, and before he could get away from danger the heavy rock struck him on the back and left side of his hip. The other men were standing near by and Cory was struck on the left shoulder, while Hargrove received a hard blow on the right arm.

The new city ordinance which went into effect yesterday and which prohibits dogs running at large on the streets of Providence kept the police busy all day, and when Dog Officer Dean counted the captured animals at eight o'clock last night he found that 42 dogs had succumbed to the vigilance of the police. Most of the dogs captured yesterday were "strays" found without a collar, whose owners turned them loose long since. These will find a speedy exit from this world of dog troubles by way of the gas tank. A few of the animals which wore collars and whose owners can be found by means of the license numbers will be held to await the claimant, and a fine of $5 will be imposed for allowing the dogs to run at large.

UNCLE SAM'S INCOME.

[Tacoma Ledger.]

Speaking of swollen incomes, that of Uncle Sam is now reaching truly sensational proportions. He collected $762,386,000 during the fiscal year ended June 30 last—an increase of $65,285,000 over his revenues for 1904-5. The tariff and internal revenue taxes were immensely productive, and as a result the deficit of $23,004,000 in the year before gave place to a surplus of $35,569,000 at the end of June, 1906. The tariff produced $300,251,000, thus breaking the record, which was $286,000,000 in 1903. Internal revenue taxes amounted to $249,150,000. These figures reflect the unprecedented activity of all classes of industry and business during the year.

NEW YEAR'S BASKET BALL.

Reserves Win Easy Victory from New York Wanderers—Rogers High Defeats Portsmouth Team.

The basket ball game at the armory New Year's night resulted in what some called an "easy win" for the Reserves team. The score was 44 to 18 for the New York Wanderers, which looks one-sided, but the playing was not what the figures would indicate. In the first half the visitors played a good, steady and strictly clean game, passing well and playing fast and with a due regard for the rules. They were fast in every part of the game, but the Reserves seemed able to score at critical times and the visitors failed. That apparently was the only reason the Reserves led, 19 to 6, at the end of the first half.

In the second half the Reserves, as usual, forced the pace, and the visitors did not seem able to follow the rapid guit set and toward the end of the half showed signs of weariness. They were a trifle inclined to crowd around the basket, leaving their own exposed, and this gave the Reserves forwards a number of easy shots at the basket. Those who attend the games know that Roche and Harvey will not let such chances go by, and they did not Tuesday night. They made some great combination plays that fairly raised the crowd, even though the spectators knew they could do those things. The back work of the Reserves was good, but owing to the score being a trifle one-sided it was not as vigorous as on some occasions, the visitors being given many chances to score to give the game a better look. Perhaps it was this rather than any other fact that made some call the game one-sided; it certainly was not the general play.

In the second half the visiting official called a number of fouls on the Reserves for running with the ball, and the spectators at times hissed him for his decisions. They were all right. He called nothing that was not a foul and made a fair attempt to enforce the rules in regard to advancing the ball while holding it. The score and line-up were as follows:

Reserves.	Wanderers.
Harvey l. f.	l. f. Evans
Roche r. f.	r. f. Marquart
McMahon c.	c. Woods
Shea l. b.	l. b. LaBonde
Dunn r. b.	r. b. Flynn

Score, Reserves 44, Wanderers 18; baskets, Harvey 4, Roche 10, McMahon 5, Shea 2; Evans 1, Marquart 1, Woods 1, Flynn 1; from fouls, Harvey 1, McMahon 1, Woods 3, Marquart 2; officials, Waters and Grant.

Last night the Rogers High School team went to Portsmouth and defeated the Portsmouth team, 14 to 11, in a close and well played game in which the High School boys showed up a trifle stronger than the home team and deserved to win.

Tonight the Danvers Athletic Association team will play the St. Joseph Holy Name team and a fast game may be looked for, as the visitors have a good team and will try to lower the colors of the locals.

The next game at the armory will be with the East Boston team. Those who remember the game of last year will know what that means. The visitors, as last year, will be accompanied by about 150 rooters, male and female, who will come here on a special train and help make things lively at the armory. The big crowd which saw the East Boston game last year will remember with pleasure the royal rooters who accompanied the players and the way they cheered their favorites.

THE MYRKLE-HARDER COMPANY

Standing room only prevailed at the matinee and evening performances of the Myrkle-Harder Company yesterday. As a special attraction for Saturday evening the management will give a silk dress pattern to the person holding the lucky number. "Winchester," which is one of the leading plays in the company's repertoire, is a well known military drama, which takes one back to the days of 1861. In it Miss Emma Myrkle, as the Southern spy, has an excellent part, which she handles well, and Mr. Harder as Spiel the orderly has a character well suited to his abilities as a comedian. This is the first time this well known play has been given in Newport at popular prices.

ACCIDENT TO MR. VOIGT.

Mr. Ernst Voigt had a narrow escape from a serious accident on Thames street, near the Boston Store, this morning. One of his teams was being driven up the street and Mr. Voigt attempted to get in at the rear while the wagon was in motion. As he jumped in his foot slipped and losing his balance Mr. Voigt fell with his leg between the spring and the hub of the rear wheel. Policeman Coggeshall saw the accident and shouted to the driver to stop the horses. This was not accomplished until Mr. Voigt had been dragged about 50 feet, and just before the horses stopped Mr. Voigt's foot had rubbed against the spokes of the revolving wheel and in a moment more undoubtedly would have been caught between the spokes. He was quite seriously bruised and lamed by his mishap and will feel the effects for some time. He will probably spend today at least at his home.

HOWARD-WALSH.

A pretty wedding was that of Miss Nellie Walsh, of 24 Dean avenue, and Mr. James H. Howard, U. S. N. The bride was becomingly gowned in silk angelus and the bridesmaid, Miss Annie E. Kearns, wore a dress of white silk. The groom was attended by Mr. George Urly of Brooklyn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Meenan of St. Mary's Church. The bride received many beautiful presents, among them being a pair of diamond earrings from the groom. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, Mr. George Urly of Brooklyn, Mrs. E. Van Keuren of New York, Mrs. J. Gordon of New Jersey, Miss Katharine Sullivan, Misses Annie and Mamie Kearns, Mrs. P. Bears, Mrs. R. O'Connor, Miss Sarah Cronin, Mrs. A. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher, Miss M. Shaffel, Mr. B. White, Mr. J. Evans, Mr. M. Walsh, Mr. D. Lahy and many others.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Howard left on a wedding trip to Washington.

Y. M. C. A. OPEN HOUSE.

Yesterday the Young Men's Christian Association opened its doors to the people of Newport and gave a free entertainment to those who visited the building. In the afternoon the boys and their friends were assembled in the gymnasium and Mr. Archie M. French of New York furnished entertainment, after which followed the regular gymnasium classes and basket ball.

In the evening Mr. French entertained the older people, after which there was tumbling by the Senior members. The last feature of the evening was two basket ball games, one by the Galahads vs. the Seniors, the Association winning by a score of 16 to 13. The other game Fort Adams vs. the Seniors, the latter winning by a score of 29 to 8. There were in all about 100 persons who visited the rooms during the day and evening.

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE.

No United Action Among Members of New Council and No Sweeping Change Expected.

Candidates for city office and their friends are showing considerable activity, but as yet there seems to be no crystallization which would suggest how things are going. There is no united action on the part of a majority of the Representative Council to prepare a slate, which perhaps indicates that the present incumbents stand a reasonable chance of re-election and that there will be no sweeping change.

The positions inwhich there seems the most probability of change, and in some of which the occupants appear to be fairly sanguine of re-election, are those of city solicitor, street commissioner and judge of probate. There are many candidates for street commissioner, and somthing is heard about a dark horse. Ex-Solicitor Burdick is spoken of as a probably strong candidate for the city's legal adviser and ex-Judge Burke receives similar mention for probate judge.

Candidates for office are apparently following some other course than that of seeing all the members of the Council, for while some have been seen by many others deny that they have been approached except by an occasional one or two, and say they do not know who are candidates.

THE NEW GARBAGE CONTRACT.

The new contract for the collection of garbage will go into effect next Monday, before which time the old contractor hopes to have the city so well cleaned up that his successor will not start with a quantity of unfinished work, and thus be prevented from keeping the collections up to date, as he hopes to do.

The new contractor, who is now collecting the house offal, will have an entirely new wagon for this vicinity, for the collection of ashes. These wagons will arrive in a day or two and are expected to help materially in the work. They are low, making loading easier; are great carriers, saving time in the number of trips to the dumps, and are provided with traps in their sides, and so are easily unloaded.

NANCE O'NEIL IN HONOLULU.

While on route to Australia last year, Nance O'Neil and her company stopped at Honolulu. When the natives learned of her presence in the city she was besieged with requests to give a performance of "Magda." The curtain rose at 10:30 a. m. and fell at 1:15. The ship left port at 2 p. m. and Miss O'Neil left Honolulu laden with floral gifts, her stateroom being a veritable bower of flowers. As they were leaving, Miss O'Neil and her party scattered the flowers over the stern of the ship, leaving a wake of blossoms to mark the course of the vessel, a pretty custom in that part of the world.

"Magda," in which Miss O'Neil will be seen here, is an interesting drama, in which the actress has ample opportunity to effectively display her talents.

TWO FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Harriet Greer LaForge took place this morning from the LaForge Cottage, Rev. Walter Lowrie, rector of Trinity Church, officiating. The bearers were Messrs. William T. Libby, Samuel Kesson, Henry H. Barker and James S. Hazard. The interment was in the Greer family plot in the Island cemetery. There were a large number of floral tributes.

The funeral of J. J. Horgan took place this morning at St. Joseph's Church, where a high mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated by Rev. Father Mahon. The Bar Tenders' Union attended in a body, the bearers, from the Union, being M. Shea, H. P. Brady, R. A. McCarroll, P. J. Kirby, John C. Brien and P. L. Sweeney. The deceased, who had been ill about a year, had many friends and was much liked by those who came in contact with him.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Dr. William T. Bull and his son returned to New York today.

—The public and parochial schools resumed work this morning, after the Christmas holidays.

—Mr. Elisha Dyer, Jr., was yesterday admitted to the brokers' firm of Cutting & Co. in New York.

—Mrs. William S. Bacheller of Providence has been spending the holidays with her son, Mr. Robert C. Bacheller.

—Mrs. Eugene Schreier and Miss Schreier have returned from Norfolk, Va., where they have spent several months.

—Mr. Joseph Thomas Mahoney, a student at the New York School of Art, has returned after spending the holidays with his parents.

—Today's arrivals at the United States Hotel include John Heaton, H. Miller and Miss Goodwin of Boston, Frank P. Duggan of Baltimore and John A. Cook of Woonsocket.

—Among the patronesses of the University cotillion, to be given at Delmonico's in New York tomorrow evening, are Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Oliver Harriman and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt.

—It might be well for members-elect of the new Representative Council to look up their credentials and put them where they will know where they are when the Council meets next Monday noon. Already two members have applied for copies, having lost the first credentials sent them.

—There will be a boys' meeting in the gymnasium of the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday afternoon. A number of pictures will be thrown on the sheet, which will include songs, etc., and then Mr. James J. King of Fall River will speak on "Aims." Mr. King is a graduate of the Moody School of Mount Hermon, Mass.

—Frederick H. Paine has sold for Mme. Josef Hofman of Berlin, Germany, to Lydia S. Redmond, wife of Henry Redmond of New York, the property on Eustis avenue, near the Cliffs, formerly of Wheeler and of Eustis, comprising two cottages, stable and 52,300 square feet of land. Extensive improvements are already in progress on this property.

—Mr. Henry Turner Bailey, editor of The School Arts Book and an authority on all matters of arts and crafts, will speak at the high school on the afternoon of January 24 on Arts and Crafts in Public Schools. His subject is one which should interest many who take an interest in the work of the schools, even if there were no arts and crafts in the public schools where they and 436 and 438 West Fifty-fourth street were badly damaged. Lack of adequate water pressure is said to have been largely responsible for the extent of the fire. Deputy Fire Chief Binns declares that for more than 20 minutes there could not be obtained from hydrants in the vicinity even water enough to supply the boilers of the fire engines. Had not one of the big fire-boats which drew its water supply from the Hudson river came to the rescue the whole west side might have been swept, for even when the water came to the hydrants the pressure was extremely light.

DUE TO LACK OF WATER PRESSURE.

One of the worst features of the fire was the tremendous crowd which gathered in the streets around the burning district and the attendant disorder and lawlessness. So great was the crowd that all the police who had been called to the scene had their hands full in preserving anything like order in the streets, and for a time thieves were given almost a free hand to loot the burned buildings. There were many excited chases over the roofs for the thieves, but none of them were captured. Two policemen chased six men over the roofs, firing several shots at them, but all the men succeeded in getting away.

Another exciting incident came when a woman among the spectators screamed that three negroes had tried to rob her. One negro was seen running away from her and a group of white men gave chase, firing after the fugitive as they ran. Two detectives finally joined the pursuers and they too began to fire at the fleeing negro. Not one of the shots reached the mark, but the negro finally gave up and was hustled away to a police station.

PREPARING FOR THE REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL.

Today City Messenger Westcott had the desks removed from the Council chamer in the City Hall and tomorrow will have the chamber still further prepared for the opening meeting of the Representative Council. It looks as though there would be room for the new Council and that the members will be able to hear what is said. If they cannot at the noon session, arrangements can probably be made to hold the evening session, when the balloting takes place, in the assembly hall of the high school, where there is abundance of room.

There is one thing which has apparently been forgotten in the arrangements; no provision has been made for a coat room or rooms for the care of the hats and coats of the 195 members. Temporary arrangements could be made to use some of the committee rooms, but checks would be necessary and people to care for the rooms. The handling of hats and coats for 195 men without accommodations is not a small matter, and it is a matter which affects every man who attends the meetings.

THE LYON—CURTIS MARRIAGE.

The marriage of Mrs. Forbes Curtis to Mr. Damon Lyon will take place tomorrow in the crypt of St. John's Cathedral in New York, Bishop Potter officiating. Mrs. Curtis is a daughter of the late Dr. Samuel W. Francis, a niece of Dr. V. Mott Francis and a relative of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and the late Ward McAllister. Mr. Lyon was in Newport last summer, guest of Mrs. Curtis, and sang at a recital in which she gave several dramatic readings.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The King's Daughters will hold its Christmas entertainment for its members at Mrs. C. E. Weeden's this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Head have gone to Worcester on a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nye.

On account of the slackness of building and other work on the Island, more than the usual number of men are following fishing this winter.

The ladies of the Beneficial Society gave a supper and social last evening in Smith's hall. It was proposed to hold the entertainment New Year's eve, but owing to the heavy rain it was postponed. There was a good attendance and the affair proved enjoyable. The society will realize a good sum for its efforts.

The Steamboat whist team entertained the members of the I. F.'s and Club teams last evening in the "Den." An oyster supper was served, after which the first round in the second series of whist was played, resulting in a win for the Club team, with the I. F.'s and Steamboats close together. The score made was as follows: Club 70, I. F.'s 57, Steamboats 53.

The Parish Aid Society of St. Matthew's Church will meet at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Watson Thursday evening, January 3, at 7:15. This society is especially for the members and congregation of the church, all of whom are cordially invited to become members. The object of this society is to bring the congregation of St. Matthew's together for social enjoyment and to do parish work.

A SUIT AGAINST A NEWPORT ESTATE.

Annie T. W. Peckham of Fall River has filed a suit in the Rhode Island superior court for $1,500 against Alfred S. Johnson of East Providence, in his capacity as executor of the estate of Hannah L. Cobb of this city. The plaintiff claims that the deceased was indebted to her for money loaned, for services, and for certain goods, wares and merchandise; that she gave her a promissory note April 9, 1904, payable six months from date, and that this is still due her.

FOR CHEAPER ICE.

Fishermen and Other Large Consumers to Combine to Secure Supplies.

It looks today as though there would be something doing, and at once, in the local ice business. There was some dissatisfaction last summer with the prices charged the fishermen and markets for ice. This is putting it mildly. Still the big consumers knew that ice was costing a great deal, and while it was costing them more than coal in a close season they did not kick strenuously. But they are kicking now. Ice is $8 a ton here. In Providence it is $8.50, in New Bedford $3, and in Gloucester, where the fishermen congregate, it is $2 and contracts are being made to supply ice to fishermen for a year at the rate of $2 a ton, right along, hot weather or cold.

That is why the local men are making preparations now to secure ice next summer, as well as in colder weather, at a price more in accord with the prices elsewhere than they have been and are now paying. While nothing definite has been done a start has been made, and it would not be at all surprising to learn in a few days that a combination of large consumers of ice had been formed and preparations made to secure a good supply at what will be considered a reasonable price, at wholesale, to men who expect to pay for all the ice they get.

It will not be necessary to cut the ice here or depend on the local supply. The plan is to bring it from Maine, where ice is cheap there and it can be transported here at low cost, without much waste. It can be stored where it will be available for handling either from boats or by wagon, as may be handiest, and can be delivered to the owners, for all will be owners of the ice and can pay enough to care for the handling. The new concern would not care about the local trade, and especially about household ice; all they want is ice for themselves and enough for the season, and apparently this could easily be secured and the ice could be handled so that it could be sold at about the prices charged in other places.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS.

The President Shakes Hands With Thousands.

A Tribute to the Popularity of the Chief Executive—Throngs of Common People Pay Their Respects.

[Washington correspondence of the News]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Nowhere else in the world is there to be witnessed such a scene as that presented in Washington today and every other New Year's day, when thousands of American citizens went to the White House to shake hand with the President and wish him a happy and successful new year. Such an incident is possible only in a democratic country like this. The crush of handshakers is always large on the first day of the year, but it has been larger than ever before since Mr. Roosevelt became President. His personal popularity and the desire of the public to stand face to face with a man who has done so many remarkable things have had their logical effect. It requires a considerable amount of physical exertion to shake the hands of five or six thousand people, but if President Roosevelt does not enjoy the process he gives no outward indication that such is a fact.

When the doors of the White House are first thrown open to the throng of New Year callers the President receives members of the diplomatic corps, the Supreme Court justices, high government officials, members of the two houses of Congress and officers of the army and navy. He shakes hands with all of them, and holds brief conversations with those who are personal friends. The diplomats and the army and navy officers wear their most striking uniforms, and the scene in the White House is brilliant and animated in the extreme. That the general public likes this sort of thing is always indicated by the presence of many sightseers around the White House grounds. This element does not go inside, but remains in the streets for the sake of getting glimpses of the gilt and plumes and gold lace as the diplomatists and generals and admirals pass in and out in their carriages and automobiles.

While official Washington is being received the line of plain citizens begins to form. In order to be able to get into the Presidential presence early many people take their position outside the main gates just as soon as they can get away from their breakfast tables. As the forenoon wears off the length of the line increases until at one o'clock, the hour at which the first of the citizen callers are admitted, it extends along Pennsylvania avenue to the northwest corner of the State, War and Navy Department building some two blocks away and down the side of that big structure to the Corcoran Art Gallery. The condition of the weather makes little difference. If it rains the people raise their umbrellas, and if it is very cold they draw their wraps closer about them and continue to wait. Sometimes it is as late as four o'clock in the afternoon before those at the rear end of the line are admitted to the White House and the President gives his last handshake and goes to lunch, tired, but gratified by the tributes to his popularity.

No discriminations are practiced during the time the general public is being received. Anybody, regardless of color, sex, age or condition in life, may go through the historic rooms of the White House and shake hands with the President—that is, if there is nothing in his appearance to excite the suspicions of the secret service agents, policemen and White House attendants who are distributed throughout the crowd. No one is allowed to approach the President with his hands in his pockets or carrying a package. The tragedy at Buffalo, when the man who killed President McKinley concealed his weapon with a handkerchief wrapped around his hand, which the police thought was only a bandage covering an injury, is still fresh in the minds of the President's bodyguards, and they take no chances. Ordinarily, however, there are few exclusions and fewer arrests on New Year's day. Occasionally the police pick up a crank or two, but during Mr. Roosevelt's term of office they have never had occasion to arrest any one who seemed to have designs against the President's life.

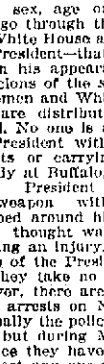

During the early weeks of the new year there are four formal receptions at the White House, for which cards are issued. Ordinarily the invitations sent out number about 2,000, but as many ask the attendance of a man and wife or a whole family the number of persons actually received is nearer 4,000 or 5,000. These receptions take place at night and last from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. The first function, for which cards have already been issued this year, is in honor of the diplomatic corps and is the most brilliant of the four. The second compliments the members of the Supreme Court and the judiciary generally, the third the members of Congress and the fourth and last the army and navy.

The receptions are official affairs rather than social, and an invitation to one of them is not considered a command, as is a bid to be present at a White House dinner or musicale.

Forty-four years after that engagement took place the world sees the perfection of constructive art and science in that craft and the lesson will be instructive when the primitive type is placed beside the fully developed sea fighter. The intervening evolutionary models will also afford an appreciable complement to the object lesson.

But the interest of mariners is not limited to war craft. Every model of craft that sails the seas, whether of steam or canvas means of impulsion, enters into the category of the seaman's world, and his pride will be gratified by a display of the imposing merchantman, the stately yacht, the trim yawl, as well as those already mentioned.

Seamen the wide world over, those brave sons of Neptune who bid defiance to Davy Jones on every voyage, will find a world of interest at the Jamestown Exposition and as they can survey the scene from the festive ground of the war path their life will be filled with pleasant memories.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Burland a member of the June outing committee. Several candidates from Newport were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

STOMACH TROUBLES.

Stomach troubles are most prevalent and the most serious because the body depends for its life and strength upon the proper working of the stomach.

No one who has not suffered from dyspepsia can realize the misery, mental and physical, that it brings upon its unfortunate victims; the nausea, the heavy feeling, the lack of ambition, the gradual exhaustion, the loss of color, the eyes are dull and headaches are constant.

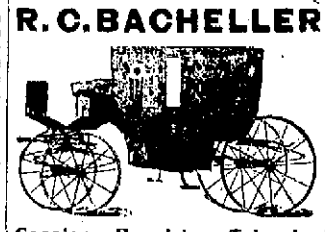

Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets will give immediate relief and promptly cure, making the mind and body once more a quick, harmonious, full-powered machine, capable of the best kind of efforts.

Mrs. Rachel Stafford of 73 Central St., Central Falls, R. I. says:

"I have been bothered at different times with dyspepsia and indigestion and I could not get any relief at all from the many kind of medicines I had taken, but after a few doses only of Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets, which I procured at Wood's Drug Store, I experienced relief instantly. I shall at all times recommend them to my friends, for I truly think they do all you claim for them."

For sale by all druggists. Better say "Richards" twice. Price 50 cents per bottle. Made by Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 Worth St., New York.

THE INAUGURAL CEREMONIES.

Governor Higgins Cordially Welcomed by Governor Utter.

Proceedings in the Senate and House—Great Crowds at Evening Reception.

All the dignified ceremonial which has been associated with the induction of chief executives of this commonwealth for the past century characterized the inauguration of James H. Higgins of Pawtucket as governor of Rhode Island, superseding George H. Utter of Westerly, at the State Capitol in Providence Tuesday, when the newly elected state government assumed direction of the affairs of state for 1907.

As his successor stepped on the platform of the House rostrum just prior to taking the oath of office, Governor Utter grasped the hand of the new executive and for a moment the hand-clapping in the house and in the galleries drowned what the retiring governor wished to say. With the coming of a lull in the applause Governor Utter wished his successor the greatest and happiest kind of an administration of the affairs of the commonwealth during the coming year. Governor Higgins's response was drowned in the applause which followed.

The formal inauguration ceremonial was then taken up, Secretary of State Bennett administering the oath of office to Governor Higgins. The new governor briefly addressed the gathering, expressing his hope that what should be done by the legislature would best conserve the best interests of the people of Rhode Island, and inviting any member of the Assembly to confer with him regarding any legislation which might be projected for the welfare of the citizens of the commonwealth. The swearing in of the other state officers was then performed, Governor Higgins officiating.

The comparative strength of the two parties in the house was shown early in the proceedings, when the vote for Speaker resulted in the election of Roswell B. Burchard of Little Compton by a vote of 38 to 32, neither Mr. Burchard nor his Democratic opponent for the position, John W. Hogan of Providence, voting. It is thus seen that the party lines for the coming year will be drawn upon the line of 35 to 33, a Republican majority of six.

The senate was called to order by Governor Utter at 12:05. The roll-call showed the full membership of the body present.

After the oath had been administered by Secretary of State Bennett the senate proceeded to perfect its organization by the election of a reading clerk, David J. White was placed in renomination for the office and was unanimously re-elected.

The senate re-convened at 2 o'clock, following the conclusion of the inaugural ceremonies. Governor Higgins was received with loud cheers as he came up the stairway to the senate chamber attended by the members of the governor's staff and entered the hall to take his seat in the chair lately vacated by the retiring executive.

On calling the senate to order the new governor announced the following appointments as members of his personal staff with the rank of colonel: Attmore A. Tucker of South Kingstown, J. A. Ryan of Lincoln, J. Fulgence Archambault of Woonsocket, Harvey A. Baker of Providence, James P. Murphy of Pawtucket and Irving O. Hunt of Providence, and also the appointment of Joseph V. Broderick of Cumberland as executive secretary.

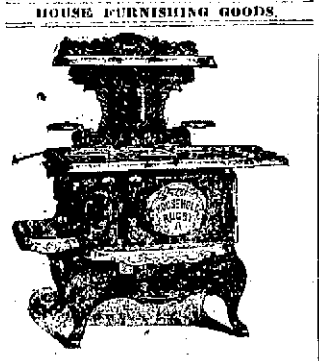

A resolution offered by Senator Stiness was adopted without objection, making the adoption of the rules a special order for today at 11:30. The changes proposed by the Republicans in the rules provide simply for the election of senate committees by the senate, instead of their appointment by the president of that body, who is by rule the governor. Rule 4 provides for their election, rule 6 for their announcement and rule 20 for filling vacancies.

Immediately after the convening of the house, which was called to order by Mr. Horace N. Hassard, the senior member from Newport, the members-elect presented their credentials and were sworn in.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

WHY PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTY?

I challenge all who handle factory-made goods to compete with mine of home make. In the business since 1872, have made chocolates from the bean and so know what I am talking about. I know that even the manufacturers in this country catering to the 400 colored their chocolate black for style, but I didn't, and kept the natural color to show the quality of absolutely pure goods. The dark chocolate covers a good many bad things, such as worm-eaten and mouldy beans or no cocoa beans at all. They are roasted black to get rid of bad flavor. The salesmen of factories will tell the dealer that they can manufacture cheaper than I because they manufacture by machine. I agree, but only to a certain extent. They have more expense than a small manufacturer selling in his own town; for instance, building, machinery, packers, bookkeepers, salesmen, advertising, boxing and trucking. So they are compelled to make impure goods to compete with the small manufacturer. He in his native town would not risk his reputation to make such impure candy, that injures children as well as grown persons. Candy should be inspected by order of the Board of Health, and now, for the pure food law goes into effect in January and all sorts of goods will be unloaded for the Holidays by the manufacturers.

PROSPERITY BEGETS PERIL.

Archbishop Ire Land Points Out Some Evils Which Threaten This Country.

Archbishop Ireland, in discussing the perils of anarchism, a subject on which he touched at the recent gathering of the Army of the Tennessee, at Council Bluffs, gave out a further elaboration of his views the other day, which he dictated to a correspondent. He said:

The very profuseness of the prosperity of the United States begets peril, unless the American people can be taught to use these favors well and wisely. Through her recognition of manhood in every man the multitudes become the rulers, and at times the multitudes bend too readily to momentary excitement. Hence the extreme need of the proper formation of the popular mind, so as to secure correct thought and righteous acting. Injury irreparable may be done in a brief interval of social or political insanity; and a frequency of such conditions, however, brief they may be, too easily degenerates into abiding habits.

I extol the material prosperity of America. But as one of its accidental consequences I must note the spirit of social restlessness which now agitates the country, and in the appeasement of which the staunchest forms of patriotism must be steadily invoked. It is said too much prosperity comes to some, too little to others; hence new methods are called for in the distribution of wealth and the enjoyment it procures.

That all is perfect in present conditions; that there is no room for progress; that reasonable discussion as to what is and what ought to be should not take place, we must not assert. That nothing should be said or done to subvert public order, destructive of the spirit of the country and its institutions; that in the discussions taking place and the acts following them the fundamental principles of right, reason and the constitution and laws of the public be not forgotten or set aside; that nothing be authorized or permitted that fans passion and renders difficult the composure of mind needed in such discussions.

The wild anarchist, the would-be assassin, are the public enemies of society, to tolerate whom is to tolerate open sedition. An enemy, too, of public order is the workman who, refusing his own labor, deters by violence a brother workman from offering his labor, as are, even in a greater degree, the strong and the powerful who override the law of the land in carrying out the schemes of their ambition.

Private property, the right of every man to own and dispose of the fruits of brain and hand, must be regarded as sacred and inviolable. It is the cornerstone of the social structure. Destroy it or weaken it and you arrest ambition and effort; you give room to carelessness of the morrow, to indolence and idleness; you establish barbarism. Barbarism is that state of society where men having nothing which is the exclusive possession of any, prey upon the strength and labor of others. Stability of possession and the stimulus to ambition and effort resulting from it are vital requisites for progress and civilization.

That in the holding of private property there is inequality is a fact that is inevitable. Men are not and never will be equal in the power that builds up prosperity, in the sacrifice of self and the economy that preserves and increases it; hence they never will be equal in the amount of property that they do or can possess. The preaching of Utopias in remedy of this inequality and the proposal of schemes that ignore the nature of man and the vital conditions of human society are an insult no less than an injury to the individual whom they fain would beguile by the will-o'-the-wisp glamour and deception.

It is the day of Utopias. Seldom if ever before in the history of human society was there greater need of prudent wisdom on the part of would-be teachers, of patient reflection on the part of listening audiences. The gravest responsibility rests on all to move slowly, to think wisely, to avoid all perils of leaps in the dark.

A panacea put before us is common ownership, through city, state and nation, of the chief agencies of productivity, and of the transportation hither and thither of the results of this productivity. Let all be on their guard. Common ownership in one direction leads readily to common ownership in another—all the more so when the purpose really held in mind is to grasp wealth without much personal effort, to make up for one's own deficiencies by despoiling others. And is there not serious danger therein of weakening individual ambition—which has been, in America, particularly, the great stimulus to the wondrous material development with which the country has been blessed?

To the poor man, to the wage earner, I should indeed preach the doctrine of ambition and energy. Let every one aim to secure competency for himself and his family. Let everyone strive to rise; it is his right, it is his duty. But all this he must do by means that are fair, and just, without ever infringing on the rights of others, be they his fellow laborers or those whom he and they call the rich of the land.

To the rich and the more fortunate I should preach unceasingly the doctrines of justice and charity. Just they must be to all—depriving none of their God-given rights and of the opportunities which should be open to all—doing their best that the laborer may acquire through his industry the decent and befitting livelihood which human dignity demands.

"Unreasonable querulousness among the poor, senseless extravagance among the rich, are equally to be reprehended, and if one is to be reprehended more severely than the other it is the senseless extravagance of the rich. It is a crime against humanity, it is madness itself to squander money in mere reckless ostentation. Now and then we hear of people so insane in wild extravagance as to clothe dogs and horses in purple and fine linen, and to feed them from golden platters. Are not such people the enemies of the country—by the hatreds which they arouse and the seditious protests to which they give rise?

AN EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINMENT.

The order of the Eastern Star held its regular meeting last evening. After the business hour the entertainment committee had in waiting a tree laden with snowballs for all present. Mr. William H. Lee and Mrs. Herbert Bliss distributed the gifts, which were pretty and useful. Several members received musical instruments, and formed a "Rattler's Orchestra," which furnished music during the entire evening. A vote of thanks will be extended to them at the next meeting for their entertainment. After light refreshments the order closed at a late hour.

The "Rattler's Orchestra" will furnish music at the Eastern Star whist, January 23, when ten valuable prizes await the fortunate winners.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL CRISIS IMMINENT.

main out of the market, not because of ventures in industrials, in electric railways or on suburban real estate—the speculation in each of which was checked months ago—nor yet because of the more recently pricked bubble in mining shares, but simply because of the distrust which even those possessed of ample means have of the methods of corporate finance now in vogue in New York. That Europe shares this distrust of those methods is shown by its outcry against the misuse of American finance bills."

Writing of the political possibilities, Mr. Fish says that so far as the political parties are concerned no crisis can arise before the Presidential contest of 1908. He says further:

"I take it, however, that your inquiry is to a political crisis relates to other matters, and in that sense a political crisis is due, and I think is coming on.

"Indeed, it seems to me that already we are embarked on a long needed financial rformation, which like the religious reformation of the Middle Ages, will through much cruelty work out good in the end. To the need of such a reformation the public are fully awake."

The election of Mr. Hughes Mr. Fish says shows the temper of the people in this state, and, he declares, it is vastly stronger elsewhere.

The selection by Mr. Hughes of Mr. Keep as superintendent of banks proves, according to Mr. Fish, that the governor recognizes the public demand for moral financial reforms. President Roosevelt and his cabinet he says are like-minded in this respect.

"We as yet see but the beginning. Time will work out the end," writes Mr. Fish, in conclusion.

TO SUCCEED CASSATT.

James McCrea Elected President of the Pennsylvania Road.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—James McCrea of Pittsburg, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, was today elected president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company by the directors of the latter corporation, to succeed the late A. J. Cassatt. After the meeting of the board of directors, President McCrea issued the following statement:

"The policy of the Pennsylvania railroad does not depend upon any one man. It continues unchanged from year to year. It will be my purpose to promote as best I can the same progressive development which was conducted so ably under President Cassatt and the presidents who preceded him."

It is certain that President McCrea will be elected to all the places made vacant by the death of Mr. Cassatt.

The question of filling the vacancies created by the elevation of Mr. McCrea has been left to a committee of the members of the board who will consult with Mr. McCrea as to his wishes in the matter.

Mr. McCrea will leave for Pittsburg this afternoon to arrange personal affairs. His election will necessitate his removal with his family to this city.

The first official act of the new president was an announcement later in the day that he would not make any changes in the staff attached to the president's office.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2, Wall Street—The stock market opened firm, with Amalgamated Copper at 115⅛. Anaconda 290, Atchison 104⅞, Baltimore & Ohio 120½, Brooklyn Transit 78⅝, Canadian 195, Colorado Fuel & Iron 53¼, Erie 43⅜, Great Northern preferred 186, Louisville 143½, Missouri Pacific 92⅜, New York Central 131⅛, Northern Pacific 186, Pennsylvania 135¼, Reading 134½, Rock Island 20⅝, St. Paul 149¼, Sugar 133½, Southern Pacific 93¾, Union Pacific 180¼, United States Steel 48⅜, United States Steel preferred 104¾.

10—First prices of the year were generally higher than on Monday's closing, but the trading was quiet. Delaware & Hudson rose 2, Great Northern Ore certificates 1¾, Baltimore & Ohio 1¼, Great Northern preferred and Canadian Pacific a point and Northern Pacific and International Paper preferred large fractions.

11—The orders for stocks that sustained the market at the outset were soon filled, thereby eliminating a strengthening factor and this was taken advantage of by the bears. Reading, Union Pacific and other western stocks were offered down until there was very little left of the opening rise, and a number of stocks were quoted below Monday's closing. The first transaction in St. Paul was at 149¼, a gain of ⅜, but the next trade was not made until nearly half an hour later at a point lower. Before 11 o'clock the market was rising vigorously again under the leadership of the Hill stocks, and was quite generally ruling at the opening prices and well beyond. Great Northern preferred rose 4¾ and Northern Pacific 2¾.

Noon—Money on call at 7 to 20 per cent; prime mercantile paper 6 @ ½ per cent. The demand subsided at the higher prices and there were reactions which were sharp in the Hill stocks. Bonds were irregular.

Bell Installed in the New Tower of St. Paul's Church—The Macomber Homestead.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

A tower has been erected on the St. Paul's Church grounds for the bell given by Emmanuel Church of Newport. The bell has been installed and has begun its service in its new home. It called the worshippers of Emmanuel Church together for about 50 years and is from Meneely's foundry at Troy. In the September gale of 1869 it was blown over but received no injury.

At the recent auction of the Macomber land the oldest son, Mr. Isaac B. Macomber; the youngest, Mr. Richard R. Macomber, and the daughter-in-law, Mrs. William P. Macomber, bought the homestead, the handsome estate at the foot of Quaker hill on the east. Mr. Richard R. Macomber has now purchased the entire property and is making preparations to move there as soon as possible, selling or leasing his present home.

The Oliphant Reading Club will meet Friday with Miss Susan Manchester. The readings will be miscellaneous.

Miss Anna Hathaway, whose home for the last six years has been at Mr. John C. Walker's on Glen street, has gone to Ilion, N. Y., her former home, to visit her father and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Anthony had their children, with their families, and a few guests to dine with them Sunday, the principal feature of the feast being a 23-pound turkey.

At the meeting of Portsmouth Grange State Master Marchant will be present to install the officers for the year. Vocal selections will be rendered by the male quartet and supper will be served.

There are more than 100 persons living in the town over 70 years of age, the majority of them more or less actively engaged in business requiring strength of body or mind.

Miss Cora and Miss Sophia Mitchel are to have a residence built on their land just south of the Social Studio at Bristol Ferry, early in the spring. The dimensions are 48 by 30, and the builder Mr. John E. Manchester.

Mrs. Anna Manchester and Miss Braithwaite of Newport lunched with Mrs. George S. Sherman Sunday, and afterwards went to Friends' meeting at Tiverton, where service is held regularly each Sunday afternoon, and Miss Braithwaite gave an interesting exposition of Scripture.

Mrs. G. Mason Chase of Taunton is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. R. R. Macomber.

Mrs. John T. Gardner has been spending a week with her sister, Mrs. N. Horace Peckham.

Mrs. Martha Gollands on her return from New York was accompanied by a friend, who made a brief visit.

Miss M. Finis Macomber has returned from a few days' visit to New Bedford, where she was guest of her uncle, Mr. Andrew Chase, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Souza and their daughter Doris spent last week with Mrs. Souza's mother, Mrs. Wyatt, in Attleboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith and their son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A Carter.

Mr. Charles Greene of Summit, N. J., spent last week with his aunt, Miss Sophia Greene.

Mr. Marion McAllister Smith sailed for England December 27, to be gone for a few weeks. On his return he will start at once for China and Japan, in the interest of the piano firm, by which he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Caswell and their daughter Beryl, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Brown and their daughters, Elsie and Alice, and Mrs. Benjamin Brown were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Brown.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met with Mrs. Lucy M. Phinney Tuesday afternoon. There was a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Eunice A. Greene, was unable to be present and Mrs. George A. Faulkner presided. After devotional exercises a petition to be presented to the Senate, was read asking for the passage of the Littlefield bill. An article was read from the national superintendent. Mrs. Alfred H. Borden read from Mrs. Martha Allen's book, and plans for the coming convention were discussed.

WHITE HORSES TOO CONSPICUOUS FOR ARMY USE.

The War Department has issued orders that in purchasing horses for the cavalry arm of the service, those of white or gray color be excluded, because animals of those colors offset all the work of the department in trying, by means of dress and equipment, to make the men as inconspicuous as possible. Such regulation has existed for a long time in the artillery branch of the Army.

COULD ALMOST DO IT.

(Bohemian.)

A southern Maryland politician, calling at the executive mansion at Annapolis, found only Colonel Tilghman, the secretary of state, present.

"Where is the High and Almighty?" he inquired, pointing to Governor Warfield's desk.

"Not here," answered the secretary in a tone of mild rebuke. "The Almighty is One who can make something out of nothing. The governor can't do that."

"Well, he came blamed near it when he made Jim Smith a justice of the peace, down in our county."

CLOSING ITS BUSINESS.

the city treasurer to accept the sum of $100 for the care of the William J. Thomas burial lot in the City cemetery.

The highway committee reported the petition of Kate Birckhead, asking the city to accept a way through her land, running from Mary street to the Clarke Street schoolhouse land, stating that it had no jurisdiction in the matter. In the Board of Aldermen a resolution was offered authorizing the city to accept the way when a deed is given, but on motion of Alderman Kelly the resolution was laid on the table.

The committee on streets and highways reported, on the application of the Old Colony Railway Company for the extension of its pole line on Cranston avenue, that it had no jurisdiction in the matter. So the petition of the Western Union Telegraph Company, for permission to lay an underground conduit from its main office on Thames street to William street, it recommended that the petition be granted. A resolution granting the right for a conduit to the Western Union Telegraph Company was passed and the petition of the Old Colony Company in relation to the pole line was referred to the chief engineer of the fire department with power to act.

The committee on street lights reported, recommending an arc electric light at Friendship and Hope streets and a gas light on Colonial street. The accompanying resolutions providing for these lights were passed.

On recommendation of the committee on burial grounds, it was voted to accept $100 for the care of the William J. Thomas burial lot in the City cemetery.

The assessors of taxes recommended the re-payment to James Corrigan of $21.60, tax paid twice on a piece of land he had sold, and of $120 to the estate of W. J. Underwood, assessed on personal property which did not exist when the assessment was made. The two resolutions were passed.

The report of the street commissioner for five weeks and one day, ending December 31, showed expenditures of $4,398.32 for material and $1,317 for labor, a total of $5,715.32.

An ordinance in amendment of the fire department ordinance was passed. It had some months ago been passed by the Common Council and in the Board of Aldermen was laid on the table. It was proposed to take it from the table and pass it. City Solicitor Brown ruled that it could not be passed in concurrence on two different dates, and it was introduced as a new measure. Alderman Bliss objected to action at the last meeting of the year and of the body, but the ordinance was passed by the board. It raised the pay of the assistant engineers of the fire department $25 a year, or from $100 to $125, and of the permanent men 25 cents a day, making the pay of Captain Wood and Lineman Malloy of the emergency force $3 a day and of all other permanent men $2.75 per day. In the Council Mr. Mason asked where it came from and Mr. Pember said it had been passed by the Council eight months ago, and was now passed by the aldermen. After some talk the Council concurred in the passage of the ordinance and the permanent firemen's pay was raised.

A resolution was passed, directing the city solicitor to prepare a deed from the city to the Old Colony Railroad Company, the successor of the Newport & Fall River Railroad Company, of the lands acquired by it under the act of the legislature at the January session, 1860, and the agreement with the city of January, 1862, and that the city treasurer be authorized to sign the same in behalf of the city. Alderman Bliss moved to lay this on the table, but the motion was lost and the resolution was then passed by the aldermen in concurrence.

A resolution was passed, to pay the members of the Board of Aldermen at the rate of $1 an hour for the time taken to make the official count and recounts of the votes cast at the city election December 4, and directing the city clerk to certify to the city treasurer the time taken for that work.

A resolution was introduced in the Common Council, to pay the salaries of Police Commissioners J. W. Horton and J. H. Wetherell for the year ending February 1, 1905, $1,000 each, with legal interest. Mr. Rogers asked for an opinion by the city solicitor. City Solicitor Brown was called and stated that Mr. Read is suing for his salary for the same time, and it was for the City Council to say if it would pay the other two commissioners while the question is before the courts. Mr. Milne said he understood a decision had been given Tuesday against the city. Mr. Brown said this was not the case. A decision had been given that the police authority of the state could compel the city to pay the salary of a commissioner. The case now came up for consideration on the charge that Mr. Read had not done his duty. The resolution was laid on the table.

A petition was presented by the Second Baptist Society, asking the city of Newport to release its interest in the parsonage property on Farewell street, which it is proposed to sell and invest the funds until such time as the society may be able to build a parsonage elsewhere. It was explained that the will of the late Constant Taber gave to the Second Baptist Society a certain property to be used as a parsonage, and if it should cease to be used for a parsonage it would revert to the city for the care of its poor. The original property, on John street, was sold some time ago under a special act of the Legislature and the parsonage was built on Farewell street. This building it is now proposed to sell and to invest the proceeds until such time as the fund amounts to enough to build a parsonage elsewhere. It was desired that the city consent to the sale, so that a clear deed could be given. City Solicitor Brown said he had not investigated the matter, had not read the will or the act of the legislature, and on motion the petition was referred to the new city government.

A resolution was passed, after a hot argument in the Common Council, giving Robert L. Oman, plumbing inspector, $150 for horse hire during the year. It passed the Board of Aldermen without opposition, but had a hard struggle in the lower branch.

When the resolution was read Mr. Rogers asked that consideration be deferred until Mr. Donnelly should return. When the latter came in he said he had opposed such a resolution in the past, even if it did finally go through. He considered it an outrage on the city; it is really an increase of salary in direct violation of law. This office has been accepted at the salary fixed, and now a demand is made for more pay. If this official should receive more, he favored increasing his pay when the salaries are fixed, but not at the end of the year. He hoped the Council would go out of office with a good record, and not vote for such a proposition.

Mr. J. J. Martin moved to refer to the Representative Council, and Mr. Donnelly moved to lay on the table.

Mr. Mason said this was recommended by the board of examiners of plumbers, who know what the officer does and the necessity for a horse. It is necessary that he should examine work promptly when it is ready, and it may be necessary to examine work in different parts of the city on the same day, or cause considerable loss to contractors, and to do this a horse and wagon is necessary. He has always received an allowance for this before this year.

Mr. J. J. M. Martin said the finance committee had made provision for this payment in the budget, but the aldermen had cut it out. He was in favor of paying the amount. The salary given is not as much as a plumber can earn, and the city needs in this position a good man and should pay him. The horse is necessary and the city should not ask him to pay for it from his salary.

Mr. Donnelly said it had been claimed and denied that the examiners of plumbers had endorsed this. Alderman Kelly of the examiners was invited in, and when asked about this matter said the examiners had not recommended the payment of the bill, as there was no money available for the purpose. Personally he favored an increase of the salary to $1,200, to cover the horse hire.

There were some warm personalities after Alderman Kelly had spoken. Mr. Casey favored paying, because the work is necessary.

There were two roll calls. A motion to lay on the table was lost, 6 to 10, as follows:

Ayes—President Gladding, Councilmen Kerr, Rogers, Butler, Donnelly.

A motion to refer to the Representative Council was lost, 6 to 9:

Ayes—President Gladding, Councilmen Kerr, Rogers, Butler, Donnelly, J. J. Martin.

Then the Council concurred in the passage of the resolution.

Councilman Donnelly brought up again the matter of the telephone contract. He said it was only right to have it shown that the committee appointed to make a contract with the telphone company had done its duty, and that it was not through any fault of the city or its committee that the telephone bills were not paid. The committee had succeeded in making a material saving to the city, and also in greatly improving the service for the citizens. He presented the blank contract, made in accordance with the vote of the City Council, specifying what telephones the city would pay for and how much it would pay, with a memorandum which counsel for the company wanted inserted, giving other officials the right to order telephones, which was contrary to the vote of the Council. The contract was read and was referred to the next or Representative Council for its information. The contract was supposed to be signed in July, 1905, and since then the telephone company has received no pay for the telephones used by the city.

A petition from H. L. DeBlois and others, for improvements about Elwood place and Friendship street, was referred to the committee on streets and highways.

A petition was received from the Old Colony Street Railway Company, stating that it is proposed to erect waiting rooms at the two ends of the line in Newport, at the Mile Corner and Morton Park, and asking for permission to locate the waiting room in the northeast corner of Morton Park. Referred to the Park Commission.

A resolution was passed, referring all unfinished business to the new city government.

In the Board of Aldermen the claim of Richard J. Lawton for damages to hens, geese and rabbits, amounting with the appraiser's fees to $11.20, was referred back to the appraiser, as the law allows no payment for damage to rabbits.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mayor Cottrell for the courteous manner in which he had presided over the aldermen during the past year, and Mayor Cottrell thanked the aldermen for their courtesy and patience. Then votes of thanks were given to the president of the board, the city clerk, the city solicitor and the city messenger.

In the Common Council, on motion of Councilman Milne, the following vote of thanks was given President Gladding:

"Resolved, That the thanks of this Council be and hereby are tendered to its president, F. P. Gladding, in appreciation of the efficient discharge of his official duties during the past year and for official and personal courtesies extended by him to members of this Council."

It was voted that the resolution be engrossed and presented to him.

On motion of Councilman Rogers a vote of thanks was also given Clerk F. N. Fullerton and Messenger Denman.

speaker Roswell B. Burchard of Little Compton, and Mr. Allen of East Greenwich seconded Mr. Burchard's nomination.

Counter nominations being called for, Mr. McDonald of Pawtucket named John W. Hogan of Providence as the minority's nominee. His nomination was seconded by Theodore Francis Green of Providence.

Messrs. Franklin of Newport and Rattey of Central Falls were appointed tellers, and the balloting was proceeded with.

When the names of Messrs. Burchard and Hogan were called each asked to be excused from voting, as an agreement had been entered into between them that they would refrain from depositing their ballots.

The vote for Speaker was announced as 38 for Mr. Burchard and 32 for Mr. Hogan. With two members not voting the strict party vote was thus indicated as 39 to 33. Mr. Burchard then took his seat.

Nominations for reading clerk were then called for. Mr. Burdick of Newport nominated Colonel Mowry of Smithfield and Mr. Peck of Warren seconded the nomination. A counter nomination of Noé L. Nadeau of Central Falls was made by Mr. Rattey and the nomination was seconded by Mr. Murphy of Central Falls. The following tellers were named: Messrs. Rattey, Burlingame of Newport, Murphy of Central Falls and Bennett of Woonsocket. The vote for reading clerk stood 42 for Mr. Mowry and 28 for Mr. Nadeau. Mr. Mowry was declared elected.

For recording clerk Charles H. Howland of Providence was nominated by Mr. Rathbun of West Greenwich and the nomination was seconded by Mr. Franklin of Newport. Mr. Haven of Providence nominated for the minority candidate Ernis E. Feeney of Providence and the nomination was duly seconded. Mr. Howland was elected by a vote of 39 to Mr. Feeney's 30.

Rev. Carter E. Cate, pastor of the Roger Williams Free Baptist Church, then invoked divine blessing.

After the grand committee proceedings the house resumed its session. Mr. McDonald of Pawtucket seconded Mr. Rattey's motion for the appointment of a committee to draft rules, consideration of which had been held up while the grand committee was in session.

Mr. Allen of East Greenwich presented a motion that the motion be laid on the table, and Mr. Rathbun of East Greenwich seconded it. The motion prevailed.

A motion to adjourn was carried by a party vote.

So numerously and enthusiastically did Governor Higgins's fellow-citizens flock to the governor's public reception at the State House last evening that the newly inaugurated chief executive and his aids were fairly overwhelmed by the rush of congratulatory hand-shakers. The reception, which was to have lasted from 8 o'clock to 10, was cut short soon after 9 o'clock owing to the exhaustion of the governor and his assistants on the reception committee from the labor of shaking hands with the multitude.

The function did not come to an end, however, before two young women, overcome by the heat and crush of the crowd that struggled outside the door of the reception room, had fainted and been drugged out of the crowd by the guards.

The receiving party, consisted of Governor Higgins, Lieutenant Governor Jackson, Secretary of State Bennett, Attorney General Greenough and General Treasurer Read. The presentation honors were done by Adjutant General F. M. Rockett, assisted by the members of the brigade and governor's staff. These included Quartermaster General W. H. Walker, Surgeon General George H. Kenyon, Judge Advocate General W. R. Stines, Colonel John H. Wetherell of Newport, Lieutenant Colonel Webster Knight, Lieutenant Colonel Lester S. Hill and Lieutenant Colonel N. W. Smith of the brigade; Colonels A. A. Tucker, J. A. Ryan, J. F. Archambault, H. A. Baker, J. P. Murphy and Irving O. Hunt of the new governor's staff, and Major C. W. Abbot, U. S. A., retired.
